Welcome to the 2023/2024 School Year

I hope everyone had a restful and enjoyable summer and is now well into embracing the new 2023/2024 school year. I am excited to welcome you all back.

With 69 schools spanning one-third of the province in geography, approximately 24,000 students, and thousands of parents and guardians who rely on us, we have a big responsibility. Year after year, you bring professionalism to your work and keep our schools welcoming, supportive places for students to learn and grow. I want to thank you for your continued commitment.

I am excited to introduce the district's new mission, vision, and values this fall. The new positioning reflects the collective input gathered from almost 4,000 survey respondents in our school community. It defines a shared purpose and common values, reinforcing our why or reason for being. It also aims to ensure we can respond successfully to current and future challenges and opportunities. We are excited to share this work with you shortly.

As you are busy with September school routines and keeping up with the hustle and bustle of daily school life, I encourage you to pause and reconnect with your why - why you chose to work in this profession and how many young people you have supported, taught, influenced or changed. If you are a new teacher or new to the school system, your journey in helping students become confident, contributing community members is just beginning, and there is
