Executive Summary

- The Sustainability Study for the 7 Oromocto area schools as a cluster was initiated by a motion of the District Education Council (DEC) on October 19, 2023, at the regularly scheduled public DEC meeting. On October 20, 2023, the DEC advised the Minister in writing of its' intention. Subsequently, the Council, Superintendent, and relevant staff coordinated the study closely following the process as outlined in Provincial Policy 409: Multi-year School Infrastructure Planning, Sections 6.4 and 6.5.
- Its worth noting that the origins of this study date back to 2017, when the DEC requested a facilities study as part of its major capital projects submission. The following year, a feasibility study was presented by Ernst & Young to the DEC. A sustainability study was announced in 2019, but later cancelled as the priorities of the day shifted to another region.

Executive Summary

- The Sustainability Study process included three public meetings, formal correspondence with parents, communication with stakeholders, and a transparent sharing of documentation and information publicly throughout the study. The public meetings were attended by DEC members and district staff. DEC Councillors spent a considerable amount of time touring and learning about each school being studied.
- Public consultation and communications took place throughout the study, and stakeholders from the community were engaged in the process to varying degrees.

Executive Summary

To promote a clear public understanding of the context and expectation of the study, the following points were communicated to the community and stakeholders throughout the process:

- The study was in support of a project already placed on the Stable Departmental Infrastructure Priorities (SDIP) list, titled “Oromocto K-8 Rationalization.” The province has committed to building three new schools. A summary of policy 409, and an explanation of the SDIP list was also provided.
- The possible outcomes of a sustainability study as per the policy were outlined:
  - Maintaining the status quo
  - Repairing the schools
  - Grouping schools together
  - Closing the schools
  - Placing some students elsewhere

Executive Summary

- The 5 potential scenarios presented as recommendations in the 2018 Ernst & Young report were shared:
  - Close all schools within scope and replace them with a new 6-8 middle school and two K-5 elementary schools.
  - Close all schools within scope and replace them with two new K-8 schools.
  - Close all schools within scope and replace them with three new K-8 schools.
  - Review the existing two middle schools compared to the EECD Planning Guidelines for Educational Facilities to determine what/if any space is deficient to the guidelines for a possible school addition and/or amalgamation in a mid-life upgrade scenario in conjunction with two new elementary schools.
  - Close all schools within scope and replace them with a new K-2 Elementary, a new 3-5 school, and a new 6-8 school.

Timeline – Public Consultation and Application of Procedural Fairness

- The Minister of Education and Early Childhood Development was informed of the intention to study the Oromocto and area school cluster, in writing on October 20, 2023
- A special section was created on the ASD-W website outlining the study. The site was updated regularly with all relevant documentation and information allowing the community and stakeholders to be informed as the process unfolded.
- On November 8, 2023, the Superintendent wrote a formal letter to parents and stakeholders advising them of the study, outlining the schedule, and directing them to the “special section” of ASD-W’s website. A follow-up and reminder was sent in January before the first public meeting, and a targeted advertising campaign was executed.
- The first public meeting was held on January 27, 2024, at Oromocto High School.

Public Consultation and Application of Procedural Fairness - Public Meeting # 1

This was an “expo” style drop-in session throughout the day conducted at Oromocto High School on January 27, 2024, in the cafeteria lobby. Each school had a station where you could learn many details about the school and ask questions. Throughout the day, there were seven 30-minute scheduled presentations in the OHS theatre, one for each school being studied. This first meeting was designed to share relevant information about the schools, as per Section 6.6.2 of Policy 409. The schedule for the day and presentations were as follows:

- 9:00 – Doors to OHS Open and Stations Open for Visits
- 9:30 – Harold Peterson Middle School Presentation
- 10:15 – Summerhill Street Elementary School Presentation
- 11:00 – Gesner Street Elementary School Presentation
- 1:00 – Ridgeview Middle School Presentation
- 1:45 – Hubbard Elementary School Presentation
- 2:30 – Burton Elementary School Presentation
- 3:15 – Assiniboine Avenue Elementary School Presentation
- 4:00 – Stations Close

Public Consultation and Application of Procedural Fairness Public Meeting # 3

- The third public meeting in this study is being held at Oromocto High School tonight (May 9, 2024). Approximately 34 members of the public are present, representing communities related to the seven sustainability studies.
- This presentation serves as an executive summary and closing comments leading up to discussion by District Education Council, and a subsequent motion or motions, and a vote on the study.
- This presentation, an agenda, and correspondence with the minister will be included on the dedicated section of our website. The official minutes will also be posted and sent to the Minister, as required, once they've been approved by Council.
- The Chairperson will write to Minister Bill Hogan with any motions and conclusions from the study.
- The Superintendent will write to the parents/guardians of the students from the seven schools, and neighbouring feeder schools, with the conclusion of the study
